

Georgia Home Solar System Installation

Overview

Is Georgia a good state to install solar panels?

With higher than average electricity prices and abundant sunshine, Georgia's a pretty great state for solar energy. It may not have the best local solar incentives, but as a Georgian, you can still take advantage of solar's most valuable incentive, the Federal Tax Credit. Here's what you should know about installing solar panels in the Peach State.

How do I choose a solar power company in Georgia?

Look for a solar power company experienced in Georgia installations so that you have the most energy-efficient solar power system in place for your home. Many companies offer flexible financing options, including power purchasing agreements (PPAs), to lighten the financial burden of solar panel installation.

Do you need a license to install solar panels in Georgia?

In Georgia, a solar installer must be associated with a licensed electrical contractor. You can find out if an electrical contractor has the required license at the Georgia Secretary of State's website. Financing options Not everyone has thousands of dollars to spend on a solar panel installation.

How much do solar panels cost in Georgia?

Solar panels will save you a lot of money over time, but the upfront costs aren't cheap. The average Georgia homeowner needs a 12.35 kW solar panel system to cover their electricity needs, which comes out to $31,703 before incentives. Prices range from $26,948 to $36,458, but after the federal tax credit, that drops by 30%.

How much does a 6 kW solar system cost in Georgia?

A 6 kW solar system will cost about $13,980 in Georgia before incentives. After the 30% federal solar tax credit, this drops to $9,786, or about $1.63 per watt. The total cost of a solar system will vary depending on the company you choose, the size of the system, the equipment installed and how you finance it.
